Tax Workshop for Foreign Nationals
Preparing 2022 Forms

Dr. Steve Gill (Associate Professor)
Douglas Kelley (Guest Lecturer)

Charles W. Lamden School of Accountancy
San Diego State University
Before we begin…

- “Filing taxes” means submitting tax forms (or a tax “return”) to the appropriate government agencies
- YOU may be responsible for “filing taxes” every year
- We are going to discuss “this year” as 2022
  - That is the period for which your taxes are being filed currently
  - Each calendar year is generally a separate period
- UCSD offers Glacier Tax software to assist you in preparing your tax returns
Before we begin

- SDSU’s VITA program is OPEN but appointments are limited – we will open additional appointments today that were reserved until after this presentation

- There are other services available
  - Beware of what you find via Google
  - Sprintax.com is reliable
    - Starts at $51.95 for Federal and starting at $44.95 for state
  - You CANNOT prepare nonresident tax returns in TurboTax
US Tax System

- Considered a “pay as you go” system
- Income taxes are “withheld” from your pay as it is earned
- The tax return filing process is a “true-up” at year end
  - Your ACTUAL liability is calculated and compared to the amount withheld
    - If Actual > Withheld = Pay taxes with return
    - If Actual < Withheld = Refund to taxpayer
  - The system is “set up” to provide for refunds BUT it does not always work that way – specifically for non-residents
US Tax System

- Comparing refunds can be folly
  - Refund amount depends on
    - Income
    - Withholding
    - Deductions
  - All of which can vary from person to person
US Tax System

- Employment taxes (or “social” taxes)
  - Social security and Medicare
  - Intl students/scholars are NOT generally subject to these however, work outside of treaty-permitted work will be subject to employment tax
  - Income tax treaty benefits do not typically extend to employment taxes
    - Those come through a “totalization” agreement which are considerably more rare
U.S. Federal Income Taxation

- The U.S applies both a source based and a resident-based approach to income taxation
  - Source based – income earned in the U.S. is largely taxed by the U.S.
  - Resident based – income of U.S. TAX residents, regardless of source is taxed by the U.S.
  - Thus, a NON-resident can still be taxed in the U.S. on U.S. sourced income
Resident Aliens

- The issue of status as a resident alien or a nonresident alien is key in determining an individual's U.S. income tax liability.
- A resident alien individual generally is subject to U.S. income tax on the individual's worldwide income (without regard to its source) in much the same manner as a U.S. citizen, with only a few limited exceptions.
Non-Resident Aliens

• By contrast, a nonresident alien individual is subject to U.S. income tax only on the following types of income:
  • U.S.-source, non-U.S. business fixed or determinable annual or periodic income (things like dividends, rent, royalties)
  • Taxable income effectively connected with a trade or business conducted by the nonresident alien within the United States
    ▪ Working as an employee is Effectively Connected!
  • Net gain from the sale or exchange of U.S. real property
  • Net U.S.-source capital gains for the taxable year
    ▪ E.g., Robinhood
Why this is important?

U.S. Citizens
Permanent Residents
Resident Aliens (RA)

U.S. Tax System

Nonresident Aliens (NRA)

Nonresident Alien Tax System
Who is a resident?

● Any U.S. citizen –
  ● The Code does not define the term “citizen of the United States.” However, the regulations provide that “every person born or naturalized in the United States and subject to its jurisdiction is a citizen.”

● Green card holder – any lawful permanent resident of the U.S. under immigration law
  ● Resident status begins in the first year in which the alien is a lawful resident and physically present in the U.S. for at least 1 day.
  ● Resident status continues until green card is abandoned.

● Anyone meeting the substantial presence test
Testing for residency status

- US Govt. has a test based on the number of days present in the US to determine if you are a TAX resident
- However – students and researchers MAY be EXEMPT from having to count days and will be declared non-resident aliens
Definitions

● Student – someone enrolled in classes as part of a degree seeking program

● Scholar, researcher, teacher:
  ● Professor, research scholar, or person with similar education and background who comes to the U.S. for a short-term visit to lecture, observe, consult, train, and/or demonstrate special skills.
  ● Primarily teaches, lectures, observes, consults, and might conduct research if permitted by the program sponsor.
  ● Primarily conducts research, observes, consults, and may also teach or lecture if permitted by the program sponsor.
  ● Expert in a field of specialized knowledge who comes to the U.S. for observing, consulting, and demonstrating special skills.
1. Determine your federal tax residency status

How do I know if I am an NRA?

Substantial Presence Test ("SPT")

- Based on how many days you were physically present in the U.S.
- Two parts
  1. at least 31 days in current year, and
  2. 183 days during the 3-year period based on the formula

<table>
<thead>

</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>

<td>XX x 1</td>
<td>YY x 1/3</td>
<td>ZZ x 1/6</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- Exception – “Exempt Individuals”

Total < 183 days → NRA
Total ≥ 183 days → RA
Exceptions to days present

- Does not include regular commuters from Mexico (and Canada, but not many of those in San Diego)
- Does not include
  - Days in transit
  - Days that medical condition prevented departure and
  - Certain teachers, trainees and students
Testing for residency status - students

- Am I exempt?
- Q1: Are you temporarily in the US as a student on an F, J, M or Q visa?
- Q2: Have you been in the US for no more than 5 calendar years (any 1 day during the year counts as a year)?
- If Yes to both then you are exempt!!!
  - Reminder: 2023 does not count (until next year) – we are analyzing your 2022 tax status.
Testing for residency status - scholars

- Am I exempt?
- Q1: Are you temporarily in the US as a teacher or trainee on a J visa (and not also a full-time student)?
- Q2: Have you been in the US for no more than any part of 2 of the preceding 6 calendar years (2016-2021)?
- If Yes to both then you are exempt!!!

Exempt individuals

- Benefit to exemption – exclude days present in substantial presence test
  - Much less likely to trigger tax resident (RA) status
- Must complete Form 8843
- Still liable for income taxes – exemption from the SPT IS NOT EXEMPTION FROM US TAXES
Form 8843

- You must file if you were an “exempt individual” for SPT purposes even if you had NO income
  - F/J students - First 5 yrs as F/ J students
  - J non-students - 2 out of current 6 yrs as F/J students OR J non-students
- Family members also must file this form if they were present in the U.S. under an F or J status in 2022, regardless of whether any U.S. income was received.
- Informational return to let the IRS know that you were an “exempt individual”
- Included in your income tax return if required to file
Form 8843

Form 1040NR

  - AND
- You have no other reasons to file, such as
  - you had wages or scholarship income exempt by a tax treaty, or
  - you had a taxable scholarship, or
  - Income tax was withheld (i.e. eligible for refund)

Treaties

- Different treatment for students and teachers/researchers and different types of income
  - Most permit a certain amount of income to be treated as “exempt” from income tax
  - Each treaty is different
    - You need to understand the treaty that applies to you!
    - Treaties are available online
      - Focus on Articles (typically numbered 19, 20, or 21) related to
        - Teachers, Professors, Researchers (scholars)
        - Students
Treaties

- IRS Publication 901

China, People's Republic of

An individual who is a resident of the People's Republic of China and who is temporarily in the United States primarily to teach, lecture, or conduct research at a university or other accredited educational institution or scientific research institution is exempt from U.S. income tax on income for the teaching, lecturing, or research for a total of not more than 3 years.

- Provides summary of treaty provisions specific to scholars and students
Treaties

- A student or scholar must have been a resident of the treaty country prior to entering the U.S. for the provisions of that treaty to apply.
- The key factor is the residency and NOT citizenship of the individual.
- In most cases, the person will be both a citizen and resident of the same treaty country. However, it is very important to determine the country of residency in order to apply the proper treaty benefits.
Common treaty terms

- Different income exclusions amounts
  - Will vary by student vs. scholar
- Different length of time
  - Treaty exemptions to apply (e.g., 2 years, 5 years, unlimited)
Retro treaties

- A few countries have treaty clauses saying that if the maximum years of presence are exceeded, the entire treaty benefit is lost
  - German students after 4
  - India, UK, Netherlands, Luxembourg scholars after 2
  - May be others (Canada is weird – the treaty, not the country)

- Requires a taxpayer to file amended returns and pay tax on previous years' income

- Find IRS Publication 901 and read the section/country that applies to you (www.irs.gov)
  - Non-students starts on p. 15
  - Students starts on p. 19
Reporting Treaty Income

- Each type of income that an alien can earn is identified by a numeric code on Form 1042-S, box 1. International students and scholars should receive Form 1042-S in lieu of Form W-2 for any income that is covered by a treaty. The codes are helpful in determining the application of the treaty benefits.
  - The most common codes used by international students and scholars are:
    - Code 16: Scholarship or fellowship grants
    - Code 19: Compensation for teaching or researching
    - Code 20: Compensation during study and training
Excerpt from IRS Publication 4011

Countries with Treaty Benefits for Scholarship or Fellowship Grants (Income Code 16)

- If a nonresident alien receives a grant that is not from U.S. sources, it is not subject to U.S. tax.
- Scholarship or fellowship grants that cover tuition and fees (and books and supplies if required of all students) are not subject to U.S. tax. (Financial aid that is dependent on the performance of services, such as a teaching assistant, is treated as wages and subject to the code income 18, 19, or 20 provisions.)
- Scholarship or fellowship grants that cover room, board and other personal expenses are subject to U.S. tax unless a treaty benefit (as summarized below) exists.

What your documents probably look like

- 1042-S generally reports treaty exempt income
- You may receive a 1042-S from your bank with Income Code 29 if you earned interest or a bonus
1042-S from UCSD

- The 1042-S prepared by UCSD
- Codes 16, 19, 20
  - 16 = Scholarship/Fellowship grant
  - 19 = teaching
  - 20 = working
- Not everyone gets a 1042-S
  - For example: No treaty exemption
    - India students
Working on/off campus

- Income Code 20—Compensation During Study and Training
- Students and trainees from many countries are allowed to earn some money tax-free in the U.S.
- Many international students earn money from the university they attend. If a student earns more wages than their treaty benefit allows, the excess must be reported on their tax return.
  - International students and scholars who qualify can avoid withholding federal income tax on the students' and scholars' earnings until the applicable treaty benefit amount is exceeded.
Working Off Campus

- Sometimes students and scholars try to make use of the treaty benefits for dependent and independent personal service income (Income Codes 17 and 18).
  - Many treaties do not permit students and scholars to earn those types of income; they are only allowed to engage in employment that is related to the reason they were admitted to the country (as a student or scholar).
  - This will be ineligible for treaty exemption and taxed
    - Both income and employment taxes can apply
Form W-2

Wages, tips, other compensation: $9,000.00

Social security wages: $10,000.00

Medicare wages and tips: $500.00

Difference due to treaty!
Other income

- Some outside employers will not handle your taxes correctly
  - Common mistakes
  - No 1042-S (you will need to apply the treaty)
  - They might apply employment taxes
    - Students and scholars – if permitted work and you are here on your F, J, M or Q visa exempt from employment taxes (Social Security & Medicare)
      - As long as you remain an NRA
    - Spouses on F-2 or J-2 not exempt
  - They may also issue you a Form 1099-MISC or 1099-NEC
Other Income

- Dealing with a 1099-MISC or 1099-NEC
  - If Resident
    - 1099-MISC: Typically reported as “Other Income”
    - 1099-NEC: Typically reported as self-employment income, should be reported on Schedule C (you are a business!)
      - Also need to file for self-employment taxes
  - If NRA, also a business but you remain exempt from self-employment taxes
    - 1099-MISC: Typically reported as “Other Income”
    - 1099-NEC: Typically reported as self-employment income, should be reported on Schedule C (you are a business!) – may remain exempt from self-employment taxes so can report also as “Other Income”
Other Income

- If your employer mistakenly withholds employment taxes
  - Social Security and Medicare
    - Step 1: Ask for refund from employer
    - Step 2: File Form 843
    - Follow instructions for this form and mail separate from your income tax returns or email vitasdsu@gmail.com and we can provide you with some instructions on how to fill out Form 843 (we will not prepare this for you, and this is separate from your tax return filings)
Other forms you may have received

- Form 1099-INT (Interest Income)
  - Probably disregard because interest received on deposits held in U.S. banks are NOT taxable if you’re an NRA, generally
  - Some may get a 1042-S for opening a new bank account (Income Code 29)

- Form 1098-T (Tuition Statement)
  - Disregard because educational credits are NOT allowed for an NRA

- Others?
  - Form 1099-DIV dividends
  - Form 1099-B broker’s statement listing security sales
Unique Treaties

- India - students on an F, J, or M visa are allowed to use the standard deduction instead of itemizing deductions.
  - An Indian student may take a standard deduction equal to the amount allowable on Form 1040 ($12,950 for single)
A student from China is entitled to the $5,000 exemption each year for the amount of time reasonably necessary to complete education or training.

- Students will become resident aliens for tax purposes after five years, but would still be entitled to the treaty benefit as long as they remain students.

A scholar is exempt from tax on earned income for three years. After two years, a scholar will become a resident alien for tax purposes but is still entitled to one more year of tax benefits under the treaty.
Reporting Withholding

- Tax withheld from wages/scholarships

- Federal income tax withheld: $9,000.00

- Social security tax withheld: $900.00
Deductions

- Itemized Deductions
  - Nonresident students and scholars (except students from India) are not permitted to take the standard deduction.
  - Itemized deductions are limited
    - State and local taxes
    - Charitable contributions (to US charities only)
    - Casualty or theft loss (must be related to a Federally declared disaster)
    - Student loan interest
Dependents and Exemptions

- US Income tax provides a “blanket” deductions against taxable income
  - Standard deduction
    - Generally $12,950 for a single taxpayer and $25,900 for a married BUT NOT APPLICABLE TO NONRESIDENTS
    - We will see that NR do not generally have “spouses” (even when you actually have a spouse)!
Dependent issues

- All unmarried nonresidents must use the Single filing status
- Married nonresidents must use the Married Filing Separately status, even if their spouse is present in the U.S.
  - Special rules for Canada, Mexico and South Korea and Indian students – they can file as single under limited circumstances
- A nonresident alien who is married to a U.S. citizen or resident can choose to be treated as a resident and file a joint return (Form 1040)
Dependents

- Generally none except
  - Canada and Mexico: Dependents can be claimed if they meet all of the tests for dependency.
  - South Korea: Dependents must live with the nonresident in the U.S. at least part of the year. The dependency exemption will need to be prorated if the nonresident has both U.S. income and foreign income.
  - Students from India: Dependents can be claimed if they meet all of the test for dependency
  - If this is you, go to p. 27 of IRS Publication 519 and read!
    - www.irs.gov
Married to US resident

- Typically, child tax credits and earned income credits are NOT available to non-residents
  - However – non-resident married to a US resident may be permitted to under certain circumstances if they file jointly
  - Again – some available for Canada, Mexico, South Korea and students from India
Dual status residents

- Marco came to US as a scholar on Aug 1, 2021
  - Not subject to SPT for either or 2021 or 2022
  - Now March 13, 2023 and looks like Marco will be in US long enough to “fail” the SPT

- May elect to be treated as a Resident for part of 2022
  - Must be present in US for 31 days in a row (check)
  - Must be present in US for 75% of the days of the year
  - Must meet SPT in 2023 (at earliest July 2) – thus must extend tax return
Dual status residents

- Become a resident in 2022 but spouse not a resident
  - May file jointly both as residents
  - Income is worldwide income (so might make sense if trailing spouse has no income)
Timing issues

- Treaty exclusion does NOT match up with exemption from SPT
  - Anwar came to US on F-1 on August 1, 2017
  - Exempt from counting days: 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021 but NOT 2022
  - He is a resident for tax purposes for 2022 tax year
  - However, his treaty runs from August 1, 2017 – July 31, 2022
  - He can still have treaty excluded income!!!!
Going to cover Glacier Prep Next

- If Glacier Prep cannot handle your tax situation
  - You have treaty provisions to apply to a resident return - Timing with treaty and SPT
  - You wish to make the election to treat a non-resident spouse as a resident
  - You have retro treaty issues

- If you are a student – book an appointment with SDSU VITA
  - https://business.sdsu.edu/vita
  - May be able to handle Scholar returns but our student volunteers are more adept to Foreign Student tax returns

- If you are a scholar – you need a paid preparer
Paid Preparers

- Most trained: CPA
- Least trained: H&R Block, Liberty Tax
- Do NOT try this with Turbo Tax
- You need to find a preparer that specializes in nonresidents and international issues
- I do NOT have a list of preferred providers (sorry)

Typically, your Country of Tax Residence is the same as you Country of Permanent Residence; however, if you have lived in a country other than your Country of Permanent Residence immediately before coming to the U.S. to study/work, you may have established Tax Residency in that country. This will dictate the treaty application!

If says resident:
(1) You made a mistake entering your dates and visa status – check again
(2) You are a resident and need to file US Resident tax return. You are done with Glacier and need to find some other way to file.
Residency Status

- Your residency status should agree to your UCSD information

- You prepare an 8233 for UCSD
  - UCSD uses that information to determine residency status
  - If your 1042-S or W2 does not “align” with your residency status you may want to ask
Entering income data

For EACH UNIQUE Form that you received, select “Add Form” to enter the information for that form. Do not overlook state info
State Tax Refund

- This is a bit crazy, but if you filed a tax return last year and received a refund from CA (or whatever state you were in), that is probably income this year. This is NOT likely to be true if you are a student from India.
Treaty exemption

Income Tax Treaty Verification

GTP has made the following income tax treaty exemption determination.

Review of Income Tax Treaty Exemption for Compensation / Salary / Wages

Based on the information entered, the U.S.- China Income Tax Treaty allows an exemption from tax for your Compensation / Salary / Wages.

Article 20(C) of the U.S.- China Income Tax Treaty allows an exemption for Unlimited Days for the Compensation / Salary / Wages.

The possible tax treaty exemption applies to $5,000.00 of your Compensation / Salary / Wages.

Would you like to claim the maximum amount of exemption from tax allowed under the income tax treaty?

- Yes, I would like to claim the maximum amount of exemption from tax for the Compensation / Salary / Wages; I understand that I must meet any qualifications listed above.
- No, I DO NOT want to claim an exemption from tax for my Compensation / Salary / Wages.

If you claim an income tax treaty exemption in the U.S., the IRS requires you to declare whether this income is subject to taxation in China or other foreign country.

Are you subject to taxation in China or other foreign country for any of the amounts for which you claimed a tax treaty exemption above?

- Yes, I was subject to tax in China or other foreign country on the amounts for which I claimed a tax treaty exemption above.
- No, I was NOT subject to tax in China or other foreign country on the amounts for which I claimed a tax treaty exemption above.

You must continue and enter all remaining information because you are required to file a U.S. federal income tax return. GTP will calculate the amount of tax that you owe and compare to the amount of tax you may have already paid. GTP will then prepare your U.S. federal income tax return accordingly.

- After a preliminary review, GlacierTax will ask if you want treaty exemption (if available)
- You almost certainly DO!
- Retro treaty countries beware!
